12 Noon - Breaking Into Comics

Marvel and Image Comics writer Andy Diggle, editor and newspaper strip writer Tim Quinn and independent comics self publisher Tom Ward talk about their different paths into the comics business and offer suggestions on how to breach the walls of the industry today.

The event will round off with a presentation and announcement of the winners of the Lakes International Comic Arts Festival's digital Lost in Space Anthology, which is being published on Comixology in partnership with Titan Comics.

2.00 pm Doctor Who in Comics

With Andy Diggle, Tim Quinn, John Ridgway, Eddie Robson and Dave Taylor

A trip down memory lane, from the very first Doctor Who comics published in 1964 in TV Comic, right up to the rogue Time Lord's modern day adventures in Doctor Who Magazine, Doctor Who Adventures and Titan Comics' Doctor Who titles!

Refreshments – and Comic Cake!

Children's Events

Taking Place in the Main Library

11.30am: "Repainted" Workshop with Graham Pearce

Start a day of comics fun with an opportunity to colour in pictures – but with a crazy twist, as you'll find out on the day!

From 12 noon: Flip Comics with Harry Saxon

Flip Comics is a fun game where people take turns to draw a comic, continuing the story someone else started (in this case, Harry). When it's your turn, you read the previous panels and draw your own comic panel, continuing the story and making it as funny, strange or as nonsensical as you like.

Harry will be running flip comics games for children and adults throughout the day. You can participate as many times as you'd like.

3.00pm: We Draw, You Draw with Paul Harrison-Davies

Kids of all ages are welcome to challenge Paul to draw a picture – but you then have to draw one in return. Who knows what will be created? Fun for all!

Let There Be Games!

The House Lancaster Gaming Group are running games through the day: Batman: The Miniatures Game, Bolt Action 40K, Dreadball, Dropzone Comm, Mars Attacks, and Dredd: The Miniatures Game,

There will be demo games, participation games and bring and battle tables.
